The purpose of this quarterly campaign was to encourage employees to apply for a Foundation grant. I used the "Beware" headline to catch people's attention, followed by something positive to be aware of. These eCards were emailed to employees. We also created posters, flyers and TV slides.

Beware: this may cause an outpouring of gratitude!

Providing much-needed support to students from low income communities may result in your mailbox filling with thank you notes or a heartfelt hug with your name on it. Willing to risk it? Then we encourage you to apply for funding from the TeleTech Community Foundation for an organization of your choice.

The Q1 submission deadline is April 1.

Beware, this may cause a helper's high!

There's something addicting about helping people. It makes you feel so good you almost feel like your feet aren't touching the ground.

If you're not afraid of getting a little helper's high, apply for a Foundation grant to support a cause that will take you, and students in your community, to new heights.

The Q2 submission deadline is July 1, 2018.

Beware, you might make someone's wishes come true!

Everybody wishes for success. But sometimes people lack the tools and support they need to succeed—whether it's computer equipment, mentoring, books or basic necessities. With Foundation funding, you have the power to provide these essentials to students in need—and help make their wishes come true.

Dare to create a little magic! Apply for a grant and see what happens next...

The Q3 deadline for submission is Oct. 1.

Beware, this might pull at your heartstrings

Sometimes, it just takes a look to inspire you to take action. If you don't mind feeling a little tug of emotion knowing you're making a positive difference in someone's life, we encourage you to apply for a Foundation grant for whatever—or whoever--inspires you.

The Q4 submission deadline is Jan. 1.
